

February 2021 Live Sessions

Register now to attend an upcoming STEM/STEAM training. Don't miss the opportunity to connect with educators around Georgia, ask questions, and discover new ideas.

All sessions are hosted virtually and are FREE to attend.

Simple Strategies for Arts Integration

February 9th, 4:00PM

Join us for a chat with Sally Baker from PAIR and Rebecca Pogue with the Alliance Theatre to learn more about arts integration. You will leave this session with several easy-to-implement strategies that will make integrating the arts feel easier than you imagined!

Click to Register

From STEM/STEAM Forum to Certification

February 16th, 4:30 PM

This session will tell a unique and interesting story of how attending a session on solar energy at the GaDOE STEM/STEAM Forum sparked an entire STEM movement at Thomson Middle School.

Click to Register

Drew Charter's STEAM Cohort Model

February 18th, 4:30PM

Come meet members of Drew Charter School's STEAM Cohort and learn about the benefits to your staff and school of using this method to achieve buy-in and measurable change. Join live to ask questions and connect with other leaders and educators who are passionate about STEAM teaching and learning.

Click to Register

Pine Ridge Elementary's Aquaponics Journey

February 24th, 3:30 PM

Have you ever visited a STEAM/STEM school and been overwhelmed by the aquaponics and hydroponics displayed throughout the building? You're not alone! Join us for a chat with the 4th-grade team from Pine Ridge Elementary as they detail their journey from blank walls to a living aquaponics data wall!

Click to Register

Vertical Alignment & Cross-Cutting Concepts

February 25th, 4:30PM

This session will highlight the importance of planning across grade levels and disciplines when creating a middle school STEM program. The session will identify Cross-cutting Concepts in Earth, Life, and Physical Science. Don't miss this opportunity to connect with Thomson Middle School leaders including session facilitator, Terra McMillan.

Click to Register